

Friends of Indian Lake County Park

The Friends of Indian Lake County Park is a newly formed non-profit working with Dane County Parks to protect, preserve, and enhance beautiful Indian Lake County Park.

Indian Lake County Park is a 483-acre park on the edge of southwest Wisconsin's driftless area, north of Cross Plains. Until the 1800s, oak savanna and prairie covered the hills surrounding Indian Lake. Only a few patches of prairie now remain. Today, you can hike, run, cross-country ski, fish, or picnic in this magnificent setting. The Friends of Indian Lake County Park is dedicated to working with Dane County Parks to restore the native landscape in the park. Join us!

Projects and activities include:

- :: Prairie restoration
- :: Trail maintenance and building
- :: Capital projects such as new buildings and signs
- :: Stewardship education
- :: Trail runs and showshoe races
- :: Nature hikes
- :: Chapel maintenance
